CANADIAN OARSMEN SHOW THEIR METTLE IN OLYMPIC TESTS

Vancouver Pair Romp Home to Easy Win in Heat of Double Sculls—Hamilton Leanders Lose Great Eight-Oared Race to Californians by Half a Length

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 10 (CP).—The Golden Bears of California pulled away in a dazzling sprint here today to defeat eight-oared crews from Canada, Germany and New Zealand in what Olympic Games rowing observers credited the most brilliant performance of the afternoon, in which the Canadian oarsmen tested the mettle of oarsmen of the rest of the world.

The Californians, defending the Olympic eights championship, won by the Bears at Amsterdam in 1928, shot in front of the Leanders, of Hamilton, 300 metres from the finish line and went on to an impressive triumph over the Canadians by half a length.

It was the second Canadian defeat of the afternoon. Halfway through the race, the Californians' coxswain four having lost by a slight margin in the heat to a high-speed Italian boatload in time that did nothing but boost the stock of the Blumensaat oarsmen.

VANCOUVER PAIR WINS
The slender young fellows from Vancouver, Charles (Ned) Pratt and Noel de Mille, who won their first heat in the double sculls division and appeared to have a distinct edge over all entries in the race. The British Columbia pair, who had won the comparatively fast time of 7 minutes and 25 seconds, with Mario Moretti and Orfeo Paroli, of Italy, and Henrique Tomassini and Amador Gonçalves, of Brazil, outclassed.

The victory of twenty-year-old Pratt and his slightly-built twenty-two-year-old bow man brought Canada in line for at least one Olympic row title.

FINAL ON SATURDAY
The United States pair, Ken Meyers and Garret Gilmore, of Philadelphia, won the second heat in 7:14 3-5, but the Americans sprinted nearly the full distance and worked considerably harder than the Canadian boys. Pratt and de Mille earned the right to rest until Saturday, when the doubles final is to be rowed. The American pair also are in the final and another crew will gain a place in the row-off between today's losers.

Leanders' defeat by the famous Californians eight does not put Bob Hunter's big crew out of the running. The Hamilton men will be drawn against two other crews beaten today, and, if they win this

SOVIET GRAIN HARVEST LAGS

Government Admits Serious Difficulty Encountered in Collecting Wheat

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP).—A serious lagging in the grain harvest, combined with difficulties encountered by the Government in making collections from the peasantry, was officially acknowledged today.

Published figures showed that with the end of the harvest period only about three weeks off, 65,465,000 acres, or only 45.2 per cent of the sown area in the Soviet Union had been reaped by August 5, as compared with 124,787,000 acres, or 54.4 per cent, on the same date in 1931.

COLLECTIONS ARE LOW

July collections—meaning that delivered to the Government by the peasants under contract—reached only 45.5 per cent of the plan.

The greatest delays in harvesting and collections were found in the Ukraine and in the North Caucasus, the chief producing areas, where a devastating drought was experienced last year.

POOR ORGANIZATION

The newspapers blamed the situation on poor organization of the work and of the collective farm leadership in the Ukraine, citing how the chairman of one regional party conference was severely reprimanded for carelessness and inattention to duty.

Other factors held to be responsible were increased activities of the Kulaks against collective farmers in the form of grain thefts and general persecution, and the lack of attention paid to the work of individual peasants by Communist Party and Government officials.

Circulation Of Spurious Coin Grows

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—Despite the strenuous efforts of city and Federal police the circulation of spurious fifty cent pieces in Vancouver and surrounding districts has assumed alarming proportions. The number of bogus pieces detected leads the authorities to state their belief that a plant of considerable magnitude is at work manufacturing them. As yet no clue to the location of the "quack" money factory or its operators has been unearthed.

In Line for Championship

Government Offices in Madrid Hold Against Revolutionaries After Street Fighting in Which Several Killed—Whole Nation Practically Under Martial Law During Brief Uprising

MADRID, Aug. 11 (AP).—The monarchist revolt which kept Spain in a turmoil for twenty-four hours was smashed this morning, the Government announced, when General Jose Sanjurjo, the rebel chief, was driven from his stronghold at Seville. The Government of the southern provincial capital, which Sanjurjo, noted monarchist and leader of the civil guard under former King Alfonso, took over by force yesterday, was again in the hands of Governor Valera this morning.

B.C. Issue Brings Premium Prices in U.S. Money Market

Short-Term Loan for $2,000,000 Sells at 105.50 to New York Syndicate, Hon. J. W. Jones Announces

BRITISH Columbia sold $2,000,000 two-year 5 per cent treasury notes in New York at noon yesterday at 105.50, a premium that will more than pay the first year's interest on the loan. The announcement was made by Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, after arrangements had been closed with Ernst & Company and associates of Broadway, New York. The syndicate also took an option on $2,000,000 three-year debentures, if the Province desires to extend its financing at this time.

British Columbia's possession of sinking funds considerably in excess of requirements, and American and Canadian investors in the field were attributed as partly responsible for the excellent price received for the securities. Another factor was the close watch kept on the bond market by E. D. Johnson, deputy minister of finance, who found an unusually favorable opening. The yield to the Province was said to be the best for any equivalent issue since the days of Confederation.

SOLD AT PREMIUM
The issue is for Victoria payment and delivery, with coupons payable in Canada and New York. The money will be used to retire treasury bills issued to cover construction of roads, bridges and general purposes in the past. The premium received works out at $55 per $1,000, or $5 more than the first year's interest on each $1,000 of the loan.

Underwriting of the loan in the New York market completed the third investment channel tapped by the Province this year with success. In February British Columbia was the first of the provinces to try the Canadian market with a loan for $5,000,000. This was followed with the underwriting in London, England, of a loan for $1,500,000 sterling. No

ESQUIMALT POLICE HEAD DISMISSED

Chief of Police in Esquimalt Relieved of Duties by Commissioners H. W. V. PECKNOLD IS APPOINTED TO POST

Chief of Police Delmar Hodnett was relieved of his duties as head of the Esquimalt Police Department by the Board of Police Commissioners last night, following a review of the evidence submitted to the commission, sitting as a court of inquiry, supporting charges made by beer parlor proprietors that the chief had requested money to assist him while on his annual vacation.

Immediately following the dismissal of Mr. Hodnett, Constable H. W. V. Pecknold was appointed as chief of police, his duties to commence at once. The commission also instructed for the position of police constable to fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Constable Pecknold. These appointments are retroactive to the date of the commission on August 17, when an appointment was made.

LABORATORIES DECLARED OPEN

Governor-General Officially at Ceremony in New Research Headquarters

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The handsome bronze doors of Canada's new National Research Laboratories swung open tonight to 2,000 guests from the British Empire. Between the doric columns of the main facade, lights shone from half a hundred windows. Inside, speeches, talk and laughter echoed down the halls and through the rooms dedicated to the extension of scientific knowledge.

It was the official ceremony marking the opening of a great national building which for years has been growing to completion on the shores of the Ottawa River. Once again the culmination of a Canadian effort drew witnesses and well-wishers from the far-flung portions of the British Empire.

GOVERNOR OPENS BUILDING
His Excellency the Governor-General faced one of the most distinguished audiences which has ever assembled in Canada, as he pronounced the words which declared the building formally open.

Mother Country and Canada's sister nations had sent their representatives to Ottawa. They joined with His Excellency in wishing success to the work of developing and extending scientific knowledge and applying it to Canadian and world problems, upon which Canada has embarked.

MINISTER PRESIDES
Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, presided. He is chairman of the Privy Council Committee on Scientific and Industrial Research, and, as such, has had much to do with the completion of the new building. Speaking briefly, he called upon the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, to address the assembly. After a short address from Mr. Bennett, His Excellency, upon whom fell the duty of declaring the building open, spoke.

He told of the enormous natural resources in Canada awaiting development. To the problems arising in connection with these, scientifically-guided intellectual effort should be applied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Manchurian question, as a topic of international discussion, flourished today in a long conference between Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, and Ambassador DeBuchi, of Japan.

LOSSES IN MOVE TO JAIL FARMER

Judge Suggests Counsel Obtain Recipe From Defendant for Making Wine

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—Sixty-five-year-old William Protosovich, farmer of Ryder Lake, Chilliwack Municipality, successfully opposed before Chief Justice Morrison in Supreme Court an application of the Federal Department of Excise to send him to jail for having fifteen gallons of "mash."

Protosovich told the judge that he was making wine from honey and prunes, just as his neighbors did, and he did not know there was anything wrong about it.

Police Magistrate J. H. Wilson, who heard the charge, to which the accused pleaded guilty, took a lenient view and allowed the farmer out on suspended sentence.

MALONE ARREST WAS JUSTIFIED

Toronto Police Commission Backs Action of Chief in Holding Man on Charge

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP).—Action of Toronto police in arresting Dan Malone was warranted, though they did not receive a circular concerning him from any source, the Board of Police Commissioners unanimously decided at a special meeting held today to ascertain the facts surrounding Malone's arrest.

Malone was arrested last Thursday and will appear in court tomorrow on a charge of vagrancy. At the time of Malone's arrest a report was in circulation that attempt on the life of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, member of the British delegation at the imperial conference, had been planned.

Meeting in private today, the Police Commission learned from the source of the information that led to Malone's arrest. The commission found his department justified in its action.

Negotiations Between Great Britain and Canada's Spokesmen Bring Them to Verge of Agreement—Stumbling Block of Russian Dumping Out of the Path of Conference

Anglo-Irish Disagreement Reported Nearer Settlement

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP).—Great Britain and Canada are on the verge of agreement. A day of negotiations between Premier Bennett and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, leader of the British delegation, has cleared the lowering skies. Tonight the tension of both delegations has yielded to the smiles of approaching success. Russian dumping—one of the chief stumbling blocks—is reported already out of the way.

Three methods of handling Russian dumping were first submitted—an embargo, limitation by quota, the establishment of a three-decked tariff instead of the straight 10 per cent preference now granted by Great Britain on Empire lumber.

BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL
The method which, it is understood, Great Britain is prepared to adopt, is to secure legislative authority to proceed by order-in-council. The legislation would not indicate any particular country but Russia would be particularly in mind. Under the legislation, the British Government would be empowered to take appropriate action if Russia or any other country again proceeds to wreck the market by dumping.

FURTHER CONCESSIONS
In return, Canada, according to reports current tonight, is prepared to make further concessions to British iron and steel. British textiles are understood to be still under consideration. And, succeeding by the path of compromise, Great Britain is further understood to be ready to discuss concessions on wheat and other natural products indicated in Canada's offer.

"A bagful of agreements," was the way one member of the British delegation tonight smilingly summed up the expected outcome of the conference.

USEFUL CONVERSATIONS
And linked with the Empire Conference, although not included in its agenda, have been conversations between representatives of Great Britain and the Free State. There has, as yet, been no settlement.

Discovery of Neutron Makes Thrilling Story

Dr. F. W. Aston, of Cambridge, England, Tells Astronomers About Recent Scientific Achievement in Connection With Symposium Held at Observatory

The thrill of a first-hand story of a scientific discovery was provided at the symposium held at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory yesterday afternoon in connection with the visit of the big group of distinguished European and other foreign astronomers and physicists who are now in the city. Dr. F. W. Aston, F.R.S., Trinity College, Cambridge, told an intensely interested audience something about the recent discovery of the neutron, the name given to the constituent part of an atom which was released by the breaking up of an atom of beryllium.

Dr. Aston explained that with the enormous power which it was possible to impart to this new constituent, very remarkable results could be achieved in breaking up other substances into simpler forms.

OTHER SPEAKERS
Among others contributing to the symposium was Prof. M. Paul H. Hebrunner, vice-president of the Astronomical Society of France, who exhibited some of his magnificent photographs of the Alps. These were unusually beautiful, one, a twenty-five-foot panorama of the Alps taken from the summit of Mt. Blanc, being particularly so.

Dr. Plackett, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, told something of its history; W. E. Harper told something about the work which is being done here in the study of "A" type stars; and three other members of the local observatory staff, Dr. J. A. Pearce, Dr. C. S. Beals and Dr. P. S. Hogg also contributed to the discussion.

PRESENTATION MADE
The Victoria centre of the Astronomical Society of Canada provided afternoon tea at the observatory. Kathleen Williams, assistant secretary, presiding at the tea table, and Mrs. J. A. Pearce and Mrs. C. S. Beals assisting. During this part of the proceedings the Victoria society through the president, P. H. Hughes, presented to Lady Dyson, wife of the Astronomer-Royal, Sir Frank Dyson, a set of specially-selected photographic views of beauty spots in and around Victoria. Lady Dyson thanked the Astronomical Society here for the many kindnesses and courtesies shown to the Old World visitors during their stay in the city. To Miss Kathleen Williams, assistant secretary to the Royal Astronomical Society, who organized the Canadian tour, a similar set of pictures was presented as a souvenir of the occasion.

Again last evening some of the visitors went out to the observatory, hoping to be able to view some of the stars which were visible in the perfect weather which prevailed during the day, the skies clouded up in the evening and little could be done.

ESQUIMALT POLICE HEAD DISMISSED

Inquiry. He had been a member of the Esquimalt Police Department for upwards of nine years, and was appointed chief early this year.

CHARGES BY PROSECUTOR
The charges that brought about the dismissal of Chief Hodnett were laid by Thomas H. Hodgson, beer proprietor, and supported by sworn declaration in which he charged that Chief Hodnett had approached him with a suggestion that he pay the chief $50 to assist him with his annual vacation expenses. This declaration was placed in the hands of the Esquimalt Police Commission, and a regular court of inquiry was immediately summoned to hear evidence of the charges under oath. The court held three sittings, the first a preliminary to receive the charges; the second to hear evidence, and a third to summon additional witnesses mentioned in the evidence at the second sitting. The meeting of the commission last night was to review the evidence of the court of inquiry and to reach a decision.

Before the inquiry board Chief Hodnett stoutly denied the allegations of Mr. Hodgson; but Mr. Hodgson was supported in his evidence by a declaration produced by Thomas Brunnden, a beer parlor proprietor. The declaration of Mr. Brunnden was not placed in the hands of the court of inquiry.

DELEGATES TO DEPART SOON
Ten Local Veterans Will Attend Canadian Legion Convention at Revelstoke

Determined to do all in their power to bring the 1933 provincial convention of the Canadian Legion to Victoria, ten veterans, representing the three local branches, will leave here next Tuesday, August 16, for the annual conference at Revelstoke.

The local delegation is supported in its plea for the selection of Victoria as the next convention city by many of the local merchants and feel very optimistic concerning the attainment of its objective.

Another item which will be given serious attention at the convention is the relief-cut situation. The legion has strongly opposed the action of the Pension Commission in lowering the income of the small pensioner and at the Revelstoke gathering everything possible will be done to improve the present conditions under which he is laboring.

The following are the delegates who will leave here on Tuesday next: Naval Veterans Branch, E. S. Mitchell and P. A. Brannan; Pro Patria Branch, W. G. Stone, Capt. S. N. Saunders, T. Dempster and J. Neary.

comes the New York issue, at a price unequaled in the history of Provincial financing, according to Mr. Jones.

HON. J. W. JONES PLEADED
"In a sense, British Columbia has taken the lead in financing among Canadian provinces," Jones observed. "We have been successful this year in three different markets, and at prices that are entirely satisfactory. At the same time, despite the depression, we are not British Columbia bonds being offered, and we are unable to secure enough of them for our own sinking fund investments."

The present issue of $2,000,000 two-year treasury bills, bearing 5 1/2 per cent, and selling at 105.50, gives the Province a yield of 2.16 per cent, the best price obtained for British Columbia securities since 1927.

The debentures were sold to Ernst & Company and associates, of New York, at noon today. If Canadian funds are at par in the United States in two years' time, the cost to the Province will be not more than 2.16 per cent. Even if there should be a 5 per cent discount in the funds, then the cost to the Province would be over 4.90 per cent," Mr. Jones continued.

WILL BALANCE BUDGET
"This financing does not mean that there will be any surplus to expend, as the issue is for the retirement of treasury bills for work already done. On the other hand, the Province will be better placed, with every possible reduction in Provincial expenditures, in an honest effort to balance our Budget at the end of the year. I have every hope that the expectation will be realized," the Minister of Finance concluded.

The debentures paid a tribute to his deputy minister, Mr. Joseph, who was largely responsible for the success of the present loan. The Province, he developed, was first offered a premium of 10 to 15 per cent on this. The bidding rose until 105.50 was the agreed upon level at the first bid. By the move the Province adds to its credit standing in the money market, the first Canadian provincial move to United States financing since the present depression started.

REVOLT IN SPAIN QUICKLY SUBDUED AND LEADER FLED

nandez Perez, who were among the leaders of the movement," the provincial sale "All Spain has reported to the Government that it is faithful to the present regime. The country is awaiting your answer."

The principal leader of the Royalist revolt appeared to be General Jose Sanjurjo, commander of the Civil Guard when the monarchy was overthrown in April, 1931. His revolt against the Republic frequently has been suspected. It was General Sanjurjo who escorted former Queen Victoria to exile when she fled from the ousted Alfonso XIII out of Spain.

NOT DIRECTLY CONNECTED
Alfonso apparently was not connected with the movement, at least not directly. The former king was hunting near Koenigswart, Czechoslovakia, while the Spanish authorities were moving against the rebels. His spokesman said he would not comment.

Political observers expressed the belief the object of the movement was to enthronize Prince Juan Carlos, third son of Alfonso, who is now a cadet in the British Navy.

General Sanjurjo accused the Government of incompetence and also took control of the smaller town of Jerez de la Frontiera, to the south, where he set up armed quarters. The naval garrison at Cartagena, on the southeast coast, was reported to have mutinied.

Civil guards of the Southern provinces, including Cordoba and Algeiras, threw their strength behind the movement.

LABOR SUPPORTS REPUBLIC
Labor appeared to be standing by the Republic. The syndicalists announced they would start a general strike throughout Spain.

The Socialist General Workers' Union called a mass meeting for the purpose of declaring a twenty-four-hour strike in protest against monarchist rebellion. Delegates were sent to working class districts to urge workmen to have nothing to do with the rebel movement.

Morris Westheimer was the penman of the Yiddish poet L. Benedict.

until after the court demanded its production, however.

GOES TO GOVERNMENT

The commission also adopted a recommendation of the court of inquiry to have a copy of the evidence submitted to the Department of the Attorney-General for what action that department sees fit to take. No official statement is forthcoming from the members of the commission as to the reason why the evidence is being sent to the Attorney-General. It is intimated, however, that one of the witnesses during his testimony made certain statements calculated to reflect upon the manner in which the police affairs of the municipality were being administered, and also with reference to trade licences and the method of collection. The evidence will be in the hands of the Attorney-General's Department today.

The meeting last night was concluded at 8:30 o'clock, and during the discussion only members of the commission, the secretary and Gerald H. Sedger, solicitor for the municipality, were present. The commission consists of Reeve Albert Head, chairman; S. R. Bowden and J. E. Palmer, Jr.

CHIEF PICKNOLD

The new chief of police takes office today and will assume the position of head of the force with the fullest confidence of the Board of Police Commissioners. Chief Picknold is a young man of considerable experience in police work, although he has only been connected with the Esquimalt department for a little more than three years. In seeking a successor to Mr. Hodnett, the commission had no hesitation in selecting Constable Picknold for the post.

The spot where the fatality occurred, just off the Shawanigan Lake Lumber Company's mill, is exceptionally deep, which makes the task more difficult.

The couple was thrown from their boat when Mr. Francis swung the boat hard over to avoid obstruction in the water. His sister, Betty, saved herself by clinging to the side of the boat.

The present issue of $2,000,000 two-year treasury bills, bearing 5 1/2 per cent, and selling at 105.50, gives the Province a yield of 2.16 per cent, the best price obtained for British Columbia securities since 1927.

The debentures were sold to Ernst & Company and associates, of New York, at noon today. If Canadian funds are at par in the United States in two years' time, the cost to the Province will be not more than 2.16 per cent. Even if there should be a 5 per cent discount in the funds, then the cost to the Province would be over 4.90 per cent," Mr. Jones continued.

WILL BALANCE BUDGET
"This financing does not mean that there will be any surplus to expend, as the issue is for the retirement of treasury bills for work already done. On the other hand, the Province will be better placed, with every possible reduction in Provincial expenditures, in an honest effort to balance our Budget at the end of the year. I have every hope that the expectation will be realized," the Minister of Finance concluded.

The debentures paid a tribute to his deputy minister, Mr. Joseph, who was largely responsible for the success of the present loan. The Province, he developed, was first offered a premium of 10 to 15 per cent on this. The bidding rose until 105.50 was the agreed upon level at the first bid. By the move the Province adds to its credit standing in the money market, the first Canadian provincial move to United States financing since the present depression started.

REVOLT IN SPAIN QUICKLY SUBDUED AND LEADER FLED

nandez Perez, who were among the leaders of the movement," the provincial sale "All Spain has reported to the Government that it is faithful to the present regime. The country is awaiting your answer."

The principal leader of the Royalist revolt appeared to be General Jose Sanjurjo, commander of the Civil Guard when the monarchy was overthrown in April, 1931. His revolt against the Republic frequently has been suspected. It was General Sanjurjo who escorted former Queen Victoria to exile when she fled from the ousted Alfonso XIII out of Spain.

NOT DIRECTLY CONNECTED
Alfonso apparently was not connected with the movement, at least not directly. The former king was hunting near Koenigswart, Czechoslovakia, while the Spanish authorities were moving against the rebels. His spokesman said he would not comment.

Political observers expressed the belief the object of the movement was to enthronize Prince Juan Carlos, third son of Alfonso, who is now a cadet in the British Navy.

General Sanjurjo accused the Government of incompetence and also took control of the smaller town of Jerez de la Frontiera, to the south, where he set up armed quarters. The naval garrison at Cartagena, on the southeast coast, was reported to have mutinied.

Civil guards of the Southern provinces, including Cordoba and Algeiras, threw their strength behind the movement.

LABOR SUPPORTS REPUBLIC
Labor appeared to be standing by the Republic. The syndicalists announced they would start a general strike throughout Spain.

The Socialist General Workers' Union called a mass meeting for the purpose of declaring a twenty-four-hour strike in protest against monarchist rebellion. Delegates were sent to working class districts to urge workmen to have nothing to do with the rebel movement.

GOES TO GOVERNMENT

The commission also adopted a recommendation of the court of inquiry to have a copy of the evidence submitted to the Department of the Attorney-General for what action that department sees fit to take. No official statement is forthcoming from the members of the commission as to the reason why the evidence is being sent to the Attorney-General. It is intimated, however, that one of the witnesses during his testimony made certain statements calculated to reflect upon the manner in which the police affairs of the municipality were being administered, and also with reference to trade licences and the method of collection. The evidence will be in the hands of the Attorney-General's Department today.

The meeting last night was concluded at 8:30 o'clock, and during the discussion only members of the commission, the secretary and Gerald H. Sedger, solicitor for the municipality, were present. The commission consists of Reeve Albert Head, chairman; S. R. Bowden and J. E. Palmer, Jr.

CHIEF PICKNOLD

The new chief of police takes office today and will assume the position of head of the force with the fullest confidence of the Board of Police Commissioners. Chief Picknold is a young man of considerable experience in police work, although he has only been connected with the Esquimalt department for a little more than three years. In seeking a successor to Mr. Hodnett, the commission had no hesitation in selecting Constable Picknold for the post.

Dynamite Explosions Unsuccessful in Bringing Remains to Surface

Dragging operations coupled with the use of dynamite explosions failed to recover the bodies of Wilfred Francis and Marjorie Gilliland, who were drowned at Shawanigan Lake Wednesday afternoon. Distraught relatives and friends assisted in the search on Tuesday afternoon and all of yesterday with no success.

The spot where the fatality occurred, just off the Shawanigan Lake Lumber Company's mill, is exceptionally deep, which makes the task more difficult.

The couple was thrown from their boat when Mr. Francis swung the boat hard over to avoid obstruction in the water. His sister, Betty, saved herself by clinging to the side of the boat.

Ten Local Veterans Will Attend Canadian Legion Convention at Revelstoke

Determined to do all in their power to bring the 1933 provincial convention of the Canadian Legion to Victoria, ten veterans, representing the three local branches, will leave here next Tuesday, August 16, for the annual conference at Revelstoke.

The local delegation is supported in its plea for the selection of Victoria as the next convention city by many of the local merchants and feel very optimistic concerning the attainment of its objective.

Another item which will be given serious attention at the convention is the relief-cut situation. The legion has strongly opposed the action of the Pension Commission in lowering the income of the small pensioner and at the Revelstoke gathering everything possible will be done to improve the present conditions under which he is laboring.

The following are the delegates who will leave here on Tuesday next: Naval Veterans Branch, E. S. Mitchell and P. A. Brannan; Pro Patria Branch, W. G. Stone, Capt. S. N. Saunders, T. Dempster and J. Neary.

B.C. ISSUE BRINGS PREMIUM PRICES IN U.S. MONEY MARKET

comes the New York issue, at a price unequaled in the history of Provincial financing, according to Mr. Jones.

HON. J. W. JONES PLEADED
"In a sense, British Columbia has taken the lead in financing among Canadian provinces," Jones observed. "We have been successful this year in three different markets, and at prices that are entirely satisfactory. At the same time, despite the depression, we are not British Columbia bonds being offered, and we are unable to secure enough of them for our own sinking fund investments."

The present issue of $2,000,000 two-year treasury bills, bearing 5 1/2 per cent, and selling at 105.50, gives the Province a yield of 2.16 per cent, the best price obtained for British Columbia securities since 1927.

CANADIAN OARSMEN SHOW THEIR METTLE IN OLYMPIC TESTS

race, they will go to the mark with the United States and Italy, who won the other heat today in an upset victory, in the final.

The Canadian eight, and California made a race of their own from the start, dropping New Zealand and Germany several feet behind with a short stroking spurt over the first 100 metres. At the 250-metre mark the two boats were side by side, with New Zealand a quarter length back and Germany almost on even terms with the Antipodeans.

USED FAST STROKE
Leanders used the same high-speed stroke that won them the right to represent Canada at the Olympics. At 500 metres they were stroking 36 per minute, while the United States oarsmen were rowing at 33. The Canadians went into a distinct lead at 450 metres, raising their stroke to 38, and apparently getting a much longer run on their boat.

Along the bank of the inland salt water course, used for the first time yesterday, cheered wildly as the Golden Bears picked up their stroke to match that of Leanders. At 1,000 metres, halfway down the course, the United States boat was less than two yards ahead, but from that point on the American oarsmen showed no sign of being able to keep the pace. With short, efficient strokes, they pulled steadily away to a quarter-length lead at 1,500 metres at a 42-stroke-a-minute clip, but the Bears were safely in, crossing the line a full half length to the good.

A FLYING FINISH
Strong finishes by both the German and New Zealand boats made the finish a blanket affair, though Germany was about three-quarters of a length back of the Leander shell, with New Zealand another half length back. The United States' time was 6:29; Canadians, 6:33 1/2; Germany, 6:36 4/5, and New Zealand, 6:38 1/5.

Considered likely to win the eighth heat in easy fashion, the British crew were beaten by Italy, with Japan third and Brazil fourth.

IN CHOPPY WATER
The British boat drew the outside lane where a stiff breeze from the Pacific had made the water choppy, and the Englishmen found the going much harder than the Italians, who raced along, protected by a high bank.

The Halifax four rowed brilliantly in their heat, but Italy's crew sprinted for the full 2,000 metres and finished strong in the exceptionally good time of 7:04 4/5. Micmacs' time was 7:12, better than that of Great Britain in winning the first heat.

The Britons are winners over the United States and Germany in 7:13 1/5. Micmacs rowed smoothly and steered a perfect course to battle the Italians every inch of the way, but they could cope with the tremendous speed the Europeans secured in a fast stroke that never was allowed to let up.

RACE ALL THE WAY
Halifax was a length behind at the quarter post and they could not get back the water, though the blue-shirted fow found it difficult to put open water between their bow and that of the Canadians.

In view of their good time today, Micmacs are heavy favorites to win the row-off between the losers and qualify for the final.

Broke at 80, but Not Downhearted
WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—Flat broke an eighty years of age, an optimistic traveler arrived in Winnipeg yesterday from Bracebridge, Ont. He just wanted to look in and talk to some of the folks.

A blacksmith by trade, he said he had never missed a meal in his life and did not expect to. He was sure he'd find something to do in the West after the harvest.

Hard Times Find Geisha Business In Low Condition

Sinclair Manages, However, to Get His Fair Share of Attention While Investigating Business Methods of Modern Japanese Cities

By GORDON SINCLAIR
Kobe.—If you can imagine slaves being out of work, the main lane of a city bigger than Toronto in which all traffic is forbidden, the chief shopping street of a city bigger than Hamilton without show windows then start imagining. Here they are.

More than 250,000 slaves, bought and paid for in cash, are flat broke and in the breadline. Things are getting so bad men are even making love to their own wives. Half the unemployed slaves are geisha girls—geisha young ladies, if you have time. Their job combines that of chorus girl, waitress, manicurist, valet and expert on high links. They stand ready day or night to play house, hold hands, feed, bath or sing "Good Night Sweetheart" to you at forty to eighty cents an hour.

But business in geisha girling has hit a new low and dozens of big houses where you call up and order a half dozen cuties the way you'd order a half dozen eggs are in liquidation and the receivers are a bit worried about what to do with the stock.

According to the police, who are up on this sort of thing, "half the geishas in Kansai district have been closed. Many of the young ladies have been forced to rejoin their parents."

SOLD FOR CASH
This probably doesn't explain why I write "slaves." Well, a geisha girl is sold for cash when she's about eleven. The purchaser teaches her the tricks of the trade—how to sing, tea, feed men, tell stories, sing, dance and uncork nifty wise cracks at a moment's notice. That's her job. She's a sort of parlor entertainer in a more or less refined way. She's skilled in the subtle business of leading a drunk in a taxi and sending him home and very jealous of her "career." She can't quit until she buys herself out.

During the slump in geisha girling some of the ace establishments have been teaching their stock in trade English so they will be able to cash in on the generalities of visiting firemen from our side of the pond.

One of the big Kobe establishments—owned by two members of parliament—had the girls write a composition on "The Art and Career of a Geisha Lady." Here, folks, get the low down: "It was by good luck my honorable father set me to this fine profession. I was eleven and one of the prettiest girls in school. My father desired money to set up a business for himself. Through an agency he borrowed $500 from the proprietor of an honorable geishaya and he entrusted me to this gentleman as security. It was understood that after fifteen years the debt should be paid and I would be free. So my father bought a big shop; and as for me, they taught me literature, dancing, good manners and English.

"I have a friend who inadvertently made my acts of grace in the Temple of Our Lady the Goddess of Kwanon. Suppose that my father had not needed the money until six years later, when I was seventeen? I would have been too old to learn the profession of geisha and, pretty as I was, he would have sent me under the same conditions to Joroya, where I would have practised a profession, honorable enough, perhaps, but more arduous and less distinguished."

GOOD STUDENT
There you are, folks; the geisha young lady speaks her piece, and if there's anything wrong with that English it must be my copying. In the eyes of the ladies of the geishaya we are crude savages with arms of steel, but no manners. I have a friend who inadvertently came to know a man of Scotland in Yokohama. These people eat nothing but raw beef, which gives them an enormous quantity of blood and they are sometimes rough like awful savages out of Africa. My friend said that sometimes they have hair right on their chests."

After coming from India, where all but the "lowliest" women are hidden behind steel doors and stone walls, Japan is a glorious surprise. Women here do everything everywhere. Motomachi, the crescent-shaped street of no traffic is a moving, weaving smiling maze of beautiful girls. Experts can tell their age and station in life by their costumes and parasols, but I'm no expert. All I know is that they are the most attractively-dressed and picturesque women in the world and somehow they seem to keep young-looking years beyond any other women.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY
All Kobe bus lines are co-educational or whatever you like. Men drive, girls collect fares; and there is all sorts of waiting by Shu Shu, who loves Harada, to get herself assigned to his bus. At principal street corners there are girl bus starters; elevators are run by girls in kimono and bare feet; girls in ready kimono are interpreters ready to assist the lost or strayed back to the straight and narrow path. Who can blame a homesick

SEE WORK OF DISABLED MEN

Lieut.-Governor Pays Visit to Red Cross Workshop on Johnson Street

Exhibiting the keenest interest in the men and the work being done by them, Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, made his first visit to the Red Cross Workshop on Johnson Street, yesterday afternoon. Although His Honor has been always interested in any work undertaken for the betterment of the conditions of men disabled through service in the Great War, yesterday was his first tour of inspection of the workshop operated solely by and for disabled veterans.

The Lieutenant-Governor arrived at the Workshop promptly at 3 o'clock, and was taken in charge by Mrs. Harold Fleming and W. L. Morkill, members of the management committee, and conducted on a tour of inspection of the various departments in the shop. During his half-hour stay the Lieutenant-Governor chatted with a number of the workmen, and expressed his pleasure at the fine spirit shown by the employees of the establishment. He was particularly interested in the ornamental work, much of which is hand-made.

ESTABLISHED 1921
His Honor was informed that the Red Cross Workshop was established in Victoria in April, 1921, and had been operating continuously ever since. At first the whole undertaking was sponsored by the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, but later necessary Government assistance was obtained through the Department of Pensions and National Health. He saw the value of the establishment in keeping the disabled men contented and profitably employed.

Although a number of shops were opened in various parts of the Dominion, the financial strain became too great for the Red Cross Society to carry on the result they were taken over by the Government and renamed Veterans shops. Victoria has the distinction of being not only the first, but the last and only remaining Red Cross shop in the whole Dominion, and this can only continue to survive with increased public support. Up to the present, each year has shown considerable improvement, but this year the shop has been affected by the conditions which are general all over Canada and other parts of the world.

THIRTY-SEVEN AT WORK
The Lieutenant-Governor was informed the shop cared for thirty-seven men, all of whom have been passed by a board of medical men as unfit to earn a living in any capacity. These thirty-seven men have an aggregate of seventy disabilities. Last year the Red Cross Workshop paid out a total of $30,000 in wages, and with materials purchased and other necessary expenses, the management distributed something like $42,000, an industry in Victoria of no mean proportions, and one that is well worth encouraging from a straight commercial standpoint. Not only does the shop care for disabled soldiers, but it also gives the public full value for money spent.

An idea of the work which the shop can turn out is indicated in a published folder setting out the details of the manufactured articles. These include furniture, furniture repairs, tables, stepladders, ironing boards, garden seats, wicker work of all kinds, all-metal refrigerators, garbages and many other lines

DOUKHOBORS GO TO PIER ISLAND

Dominion and Provincial Officials Agree on Transfer of Prisoners

After consultation between the Attorney-General's Department and Colonel H. W. Cooper, warden at the penitentiary, New Westminster, yesterday, it was arranged that the first of the male Doukhobor prisoners, held at Oakalla, would be moved to Pier Island, the new Federal penal colony, in groups of twenty, starting today. There are upwards of 250 men held at Oakalla for the Federal authorities, all members of the Sons of Freedom.

The women prisoners, of whom there are a like number, will not be moved to Pier Island until the separate encampment being prepared for them by the Federal Department of Public Works is completed. Guards and all necessary services at Pier Island will be maintained by the Federal penitentiary authorities.

The Department of Pensions and National Health is co-operating in the movement of the prisoners to Pier Island, and this work will be expedited, he said.

Japan, incidentally, still believes in the free sample. Here is a sample of kid's day when I got into the Exhibition for a nickel was loading up with samples, worthless or otherwise, to cart home in triumph. Then that all died on the altar of efficiency. Not here; only some of the things they hand you in the street are liable to knock you into a tailspin when you open them up. Particularly if you open them publicly—ask me some time.

WILL SUCCOR STRANDED MEN

Airplane Will Carry Food to Gold Miners at McConnell Creek

Through co-operation of the British Columbia Department of Mines and the Provincial Police, a party of miners stranded without adequate food stores at McConnell Creek will be relieved this week by air transit of food supplies to the men, who will then make their way out of the area on foot. Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, stated yesterday.

Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer for the district, flew in to the scene recently, to report on the McConnell Creek prospects. He found some well-organized parties, and one band of men who had been attracted to the scene by rumors of rich gold yields but who had gone into the isolated region without adequate stores.

PARENT IS ANXIOUS
W. Parke, of Edmonton, father of one of the men in the latter group, has guaranteed the cost of freight food by air into the site, for the relief of the party said to have been brought there on the representations of Mr. J. Brown, leaseholder of property on the creek. The men will make their way out on foot, once they have received the necessary stores.

The Department of Mines and the Provincial Police are arranging details of plans for the relief of the stranded men.

In his report on the actual workings, Mr. Lay states that promising, but not sensational, prospects are in sight on the creek, a tributary of the Ingenika River. The scene, however, is one of the most isolated parts of the province, and only well-equipped parties can maintain themselves there for any protracted period.

"Dad," said little Tommy, "teacher told us that the olive branch was an emblem of peace. What is the emblem of war?"

"Orange blossoms," came the weary reply.

WORK IS NEEDED

Members of the committee took occasion to acquaint the Lieutenant-Governor of the present conditions with regard to the continuation of the work and the danger of severe setbacks if the public fails to realize the importance of this industry to Victoria.

The appeal for work is not made in the hope of sympathetic donations, but with the view of going into the market to sell goods that carry a dollar for dollar value. The shop has experienced a slack period in July. So far this month the work provided is only fair, so that returns will not be as helpful as July and August of last year.

The management committee of the Workshop extend an invitation to citizens to visit the Workshop at any time, and inspect the class of work being turned out by the men who are employed. The men and the management have facilities to take care of large and small orders, the larger the order the more men employed. The shop comprises two floors of ample proportions to take care of all classes of work, and the Red Cross guarantee goes with every article produced.

Following the inspection of the plant, His Honor complimented Mr. Morkill and Mrs. Fleming on the magnificent showing of finished products. No preparations were made for the visit, and His Honor was privileged to view the work being done yesterday as it is every day—providing the orders are forthcoming for work.

What Today Means

"LEO"

If August 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11:10 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 1 p.m. to 3:35 p.m., and from 8:30 p.m. to 9:40 p.m.

You will not draw a blank on August 11 from the augury of the stars. Something of a startling nature will leave its imprint for some time to come. This is likely to be impersonal in character, and widespread in interest. A day mainly suitable for attending to material matters. Unsuitable time to spring new stunts.

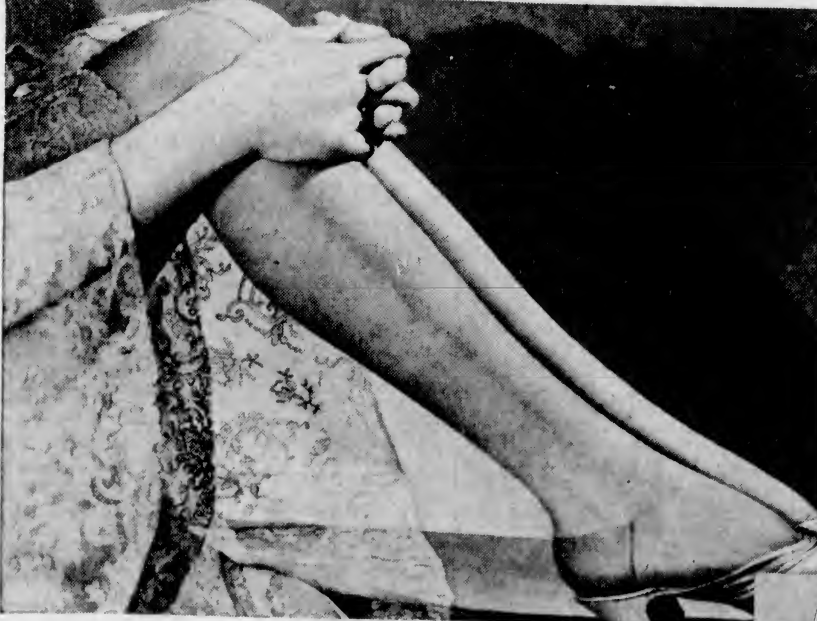

Children born on this August 11 will be full of self-importance and very partial to the use of the "first person singular" pronoun. They will in every other way be intelligent and likeable. They will not have very sympathetic natures, and will be guilty of selfishness. They can work hard, if in a working mood.

If August 11 is your birth date, you are a born actress, and it is difficult to tell whether you are acting or living a part. Your make-believe, in time, are apt to become realities to you, until the truth is driven home in some unpleasant manner. Your pursuit of appearance rather than reality, of complacency rather than victory, bespeaks weakness and inertia on your part. A semi-sensual weakness of purpose seems to make you the boon companion of Tom, Dick and Harry—especially so, if you be a man. The influence of associates will play a great part in the history of your life and character. You run in the direction that your particular "pack" runs, whether it takes you away from your better interests or not.

You will always enjoy a certain amount of popularity, because you are considered good fun. You have a spirit of adventure, particularly so in the pursuit of pleasure. You are not so daring or self-sacrificing, however, when it comes to doing something more profitable. You will never, as a woman, know the real value of money or things as long as you are not a real breadwinner. A sharp lesson of necessity might bring out some splendid reserves in your character, which will never be revealed otherwise.

DON'T DESTROY

the ELASTICITY that makes stockings wear

Do YOU KNOW what causes those ruinous stocking runs?

New stockings are elastic. They give under strain, stretch and then spring back again. When this precious elasticity is destroyed, the silk threads, instead of giving, break under strain. It is then that runs start!

That is why Lux is especially made to preserve the elasticity that makes even sheer stockings WEAR.

Wash this 2-minute way:

1. One teaspoon of Lux diamonds per pair.
 2. Squeeze gentle Lux suds through stockings, rinse well.
- Don't rub with cake soap. It destroys the elasticity of the silk. With Lux there's no rubbing.

Don't use too-warm water—it fades colour. Dissolve Lux in hot water and cool to lukewarm for use. Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades colour. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Province Perform Notable
Work in Difficult Period

British Columbia industries suffered eleven strikes, with a loss of 79,210 working days, in 1931, more than half of which were attributable to the activities of an unfiliated union which had been active in the lumbering industry, the annual report of the Male Minimum Wage Board, filed yesterday with Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Labor, discloses.

The board, which is composed of Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, as chairman; George H. Cowan, K.C., Vancouver; and Norman de W. Lyons, Victoria, dealt with a number of applications from the various trades, and enforced an existing order covering statutory steam engineers.

Applications from window cleaners and taxi drivers at Victoria, for the setting of a minimum wage in those callings were unsupported and rejected on the ground that minimum rates could not be set for one locality but only over the province as a whole. The board comments on the industrial outlook for the coming year as follows:

NEED OF TOLERANCE

"There can be no doubt that during the coming period of readjustment there will be instances when a great amount of tolerance and understanding will be required from both workers and employers, in order to safely bridge the gap between present conditions and the return of normal times. We feel confident that by following a course fair to each other, industry and its employees will rise above any small differences, and tackle the problem of reconstruction in a manner that will react to the benefit of all concerned."

The board recites unemployment relief measures taken during the year, and states numbers of men were sent through Government employment offices to the Provincial relief camps for work; special effort being made to relieve the pressure on the cities. At the end of May, 1932, the employment offices had sent approximately 15,000 to camps and other Provincial relief projects.

PLACEMENTS MADE

Employment offices made 46,944 placements in positions during the year, 22,947 of which were for work ranging from one week to permanent engagement. The balance, 23,997, secured casual work up to seven days, and in some instances this was protracted into much longer periods.

A total of 5,765 placements was made for women by the Victoria and Vancouver offices of the service. Of these 2,720 received work lasting from a week to permanent, the remainder being casual employment up to seven days.

Special reference is made to results in the handicapped section of the employment offices at Victoria and Vancouver, where determined efforts were made to place men who through war or other service, were handicapped in their search for employment, in competition with able-bodied workers. Handicapped men during the year had first choice in filling 18,885 of the positions opened through efforts of the Victoria and Vancouver offices. Actual placements were 1,388 in this section, including 142 ex-service men able for light duties only.

INSPECTIONS MAINTAINED

Inspections under the board were maintained during the year, including 1,329 visits to factory premises, in all parts of the province. Child labor was at a minimum, only two applications being made in respect to those of school years regarding vacation work.

The report covers lighting, sanitation, hours of work and many other phases of the board's work in a comprehensive manner.

CANTEEN PROBE GAINS SUPPORT

Provincial Command of A.
and N. Veterans Endorse Inquiry Commission

At a meeting held recently in Vancouver, and presided over by Major J. Eades Ward, the provincial command of the Army and Navy Veterans heartily voiced its approval of the appointment of a commission to investigate the administration of the Canteen Funds throughout the province. This commission will inquire into the advisability of investing funds in mortgages and the like and will make a thorough check upon the handling of the funds.

It was also announced that the Army and Navy Veterans will hold their next Dominion convention in Vancouver, at which a souvenir publication will be prepared and sent to all Eastern units.

Strong resolutions were passed urging immediate action by the pension authorities at Ottawa to relieve the distress caused by the recent cut.

The method of giving relief on the merits of each case, taking into consideration the economic situation in different parts of the country, was discussed.

The meeting adjourned to the Cenotaph, where Thomas Jones, first vice-president of the Provincial Command, and president of the Victoria unit, dedicated a wreath to fallen comrades. The convention ended with a dinner and a smoker, given by the provincial executive at the headquarters of the Vancouver branch.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DON'T REDUCE FROM NORMAL WEIGHT

If you are of normal weight, yet have a longing to get a "slim figure," it might be well to think for a moment about what the normal amount of fat on and in your body means to your health.

Fat tissue is found scattered throughout the entire body. Immediately beneath the skin it forms a layer of varying thickness, not only rounding out the figure, but acting as a protector to hold in the heat of the body and not allowing it to get out of the body too readily. Heat is life to the body and without it, body must therefore be kept warm, even hot, inside, if all the processes are to do their work well.

If the body heat is lost too readily the white corpuscles—the disease-fighters of the body—do not do their work as well; the circulation of the blood becomes slower; everything, in fact, slows down. Thus this layer of fat is of great service to all the body processes.

Then a considerable amount of fat is necessary to support the abdominal organs, all of which are attached to the back bone and "hang" out in the abdomen. Supporting hard tissue lined with fat holds these organs up in their proper places in the abdomen.

The individual who has reduced his weight too rapidly frequently has a great deal of abdominal distress—pain in back and in abdomen.

Gladioli Show to Be Opened Today

E. M. Whyte, president of the B.C. Agricultural Association, will officiate at the formal opening, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, of the gladioli show to be held in the Cridge Memorial Hall. Several completely new varieties will be exhibited among the more than 200 varieties of gladioli which will be shown, the entire exhibit being grown and exhibited and donated by C. S. McVish, of Breed's Cross-road.

The Ladies Aid of the Church of Our Lord (Free Church of England) under whose patronage the show is being held, will provide afternoon tea, and a musical programme is being arranged.

BERRY CROWERS ENJOY PICNIC

The Keating Co-operative Fruit Growers' Association held its first annual picnic at Deep Cove yesterday, with an attendance of more than 150 persons.

The outing was thoroughly enjoyed by the members, nearly all of whom took an active part in the extensive sports programme prepared by the committee.

Representatives from many of the co-operative business houses, including the Dehydrating and Cold Storage Company, the Victoria Wineries, Ltd., and the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, were the guests of the Keating body. Mrs. D. McBride presented prizes won during the day.

CANADIAN TEST NOW AVAILABLE

U.S. Trials of Oil Burners
Obviated by Ottawa
Laboratories

After two years' persistent drive for the creation of Canadian research facilities to test Canadian oil burners for homes and industrial plants, British Columbia was officially notified from Ottawa yesterday of the success of its mission. Acting-Premier Pooley announced receipt of official advice from Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the National Research Council, that Dominion laboratories at Ottawa are ready to respond to all calls made on them in this connection.

Provision of the new facilities means that Canadian oil burners and similar types of equipment, which heretofore had to be sent to Chicago for test, to comply with fire underwriting and other regulations, can now go through an all-Canadian channel to win certificates of approval that will be accepted on the Canadian side of the line. The Chicago laboratories, as was natural, gave precedence to American applications for tests, and much delay ensued in consequence.

B.C. FILED REQUEST

Two years ago the Provincial Government took up the matter with the Federal authorities, urging an all-Canadian channel for the necessary testing of devices using fuel oil, to eliminate the Chicago delays, and to give a British standard of testing to Canadian devices offered for use in Canadian homes and industry. Now that the provision exists, appliances can be forwarded to the Ottawa laboratories, with recognition of standing awarded there.

Unapproved appliances for oil burning will most likely be removed from use in this province, on the ground of public safety, it was intimated. Full particulars of the requirements of the Canadian research tests can be obtained from

In case you are skeptical about

Women everywhere will be interested to know that Miss Amelia Earhart, who christened the Essex Terraplane, is herself the first woman in the world to own one of these new type cars.

TERRAPLANING here's the evidence!

IN automobile advertising nowadays "all the little fishes talk like whales."

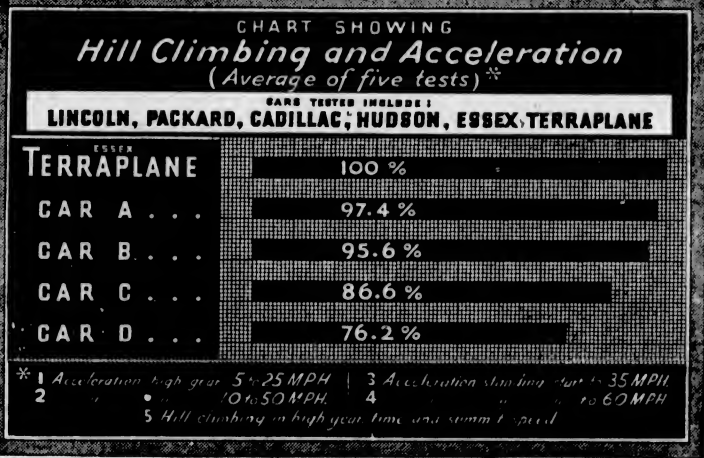

Hence, when a car that is really new and revolutionary is ready for description, the language is weak from abuse.

That's why it takes a new word—TERRAPLANING—to picture the joyously thrilling performance of this radically new-type car, the Essex.

It's a totally different kind of performance—a skimming, dashing, get-there, safely close-to-the-road swift smooth motion such as has not been enjoyed before except in planing on the water or in the air!

We feel it is idle to challenge your credulity with generalities about this performance.

Your experience with conventional cars will probably discount the glow-

This chart is based on tests made by the scientists of Guggenheim School of Aeronautics, New York University. The cars used were all 1932 designs, stock production, none being specially fitted or tuned for the purpose. Performances were clocked both by stopwatch and Accelerometer. ing things we might say about its nimble surging getaway, its split-second acceleration, its dogged whisper-quiet six-cylinder pneumonated power on the hills.

So we asked the scientists of Guggenheim School of Aeronautics, New York University, to measure the action of the Essex Terraplane against earlier designs.

Just to make it interesting, we suggested it be matched not merely against cars competitively priced but against the costliest and finest mechanisms that American automotive engineering genius has devised.

Herewith, graphed on the chart, you see the results.

Look them over, see what TERRAPLANING means, and then remember you get it in the new Essex at a price that's actually down among and UNDER the former lowest-priced Three!

AUSTRALIANS WIN AGAIN

Touring Cricketers Defeat Calgary All-Star Team Easily

CALGARY, Aug. 10 (CP).—The cream of Australia's cricket world today marched through an all-star Calgary aggregation for a decisive victory. The eleven from "Down Under" compiled 228 runs for two wickets, declared, against the Calgaryans' 140, all out.

It was the first of a two-game series, the second taking place tomorrow. Rain fell throughout the contest, making play difficult at times. Although the Calgary team did their utmost they were no match for the finished Australians at any angle of the play. Cartwright and Campbell made the best Calgary bid for victory but they both fell to the slow goosy bowling of Fleetwood-Smith, Australia's left-handed ace. Cartwright scored 17 runs and Campbell 25 before being retired.

R. Nutt and E. Tolhurst started the batting for the Aussies, the former making 74 runs before being clean bowled by Wright, and the latter marking up 45. Tolhurst went out first lbw, and Don Bradman, Australian star batter, came in to wield a clunky bat.

Bradman managed 39, not out, and was joined by Stan McCabe, another Australian wizard, when Nutt fell to Wright's bowling. McCabe cracked the oval about the field for 62, not out, and stumps were then drawn for the day.

Calgary fielded sixteen men against the Australian eleven.

Vaudeville originally was a popular song with words relating to some story of the day.

E.P. RANCH IS SHOWING LARGE HERD

Eighteen Head of Famous Shorthorns Now En Route to Willows Fair

FIRST LIVESTOCK ENTRY IS HOUSED

PROFESSOR W. L. CARLYLE

Coinciding with the arrival yesterday of the first string of livestock for the annual fair of the B.C. Agricultural Association, it was announced by Ald. T. W. C. Hawkins that a herd of the Prince of Wales' famous Shorthorn cattle had left Calgary to be entered in the exhibition.

The herd, numbering eighteen in all, left on Tuesday and should arrive here before the end of the week. This entry unquestionably will be the show exhibit of the livestock division.

FIRST ARRIVAL
Twenty head of sheep and twenty head of swine were housed in the Willows barn yesterday from the Clarinda Stock Farm, Regina. From now on shipments of livestock are expected to arrive daily from all parts of Canada and the Pacific Coast states.

Judging from yesterday's arrival, the type of livestock being sent this year is equally as good, if not better, than last year. Keen competition is expected, inasmuch as many new exhibitors have announced their intention to show stock.

PICK OF HERD
Professor W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince of Wales' ranch at High River, has chosen the pick of the Shorthorn herd for showing here during the week of August 22 to 27, and will take his entry from here for exhibition in Vancouver.

The Prince's cattle is known as the "Princeton" herd by virtue of the fact that the names of the prize stock has this prefix.

FAMOUS SIRE
It will be well worth attendance at the exhibition to see these animals, many of them sired by the famous bull, King of the Fairies. This prize bull was shown all over the West with outstanding success, and will be remembered by many who saw him here several years ago. King of the Fairies was the Prince's favorite sire, and many of his progeny are sold at auction each year at the Calgary bull sale.

Many of the range herds throughout the foothill country of Alberta are bred from foundation stock reared on the Prince's farm, where the blood lines are continually improved by importations from his English farm.

The Winter King was the popular title of Frederick V. Elector Palatine, who was King of Bohemia for a little more than a year.

Dual Main Event Billed Tonight in Tillicum Gym

VICTORIANS will witness another dual main event this evening on Promoter Fred Richardson's wrestling card at the Tillicum gymnasium at 6 o'clock. Ernie Arthur, 245 lbs., will grapple with Sharmar, Salt Lake City, in one of the six-round headliners, while Testura Higami, Japanese middleweight, will take on Joe Parelli, Italy, in the second half of the programme. Two local lads will appear in the curtain-raiser. All the mat experts, with the exception of Sharmar, have shown here before. Plenty of action should be eluted out to the ringriders with the quartette going at top speed from the start.

STARTING LANE YARD TOO LONG

Ralph Metcalfe Victim of "Long Count" in Olympic 200-Metre Final

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10 (AP).—Too late for anything to be done about it, photographs came to light tonight to support a contention that Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette negro sprinter, was the victim of a "long count" in the measurement of his starting position in the Olympic 200-metre final, won by Eddie Tolan.

Olympic officials last week discounted his claim that the tape measure used by the lap checker who placed the tape on the start line was the "staggered" marker, indicating Metcalfe's starting mark was about a yard too long. Tolan won by about two yards, while George Simpson noosed out Metcalfe for second place.

If such an error actually was made, it put the lane marker in the same class with the lap checker who compelled the steepchase boys to run an extra lap, the finish judge who gave the United States a premature sweep in the 110-metre hurdles and the field judge who was watching the pole vault when Frenchman made one of his best ditch throws.

Provincial Marksmen Well Up in Prize Lists at Dominion Meet

SCOTTISH TEAM FINISHES FOURTH

By JACK HAMILTON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—In one of the most thrilling shoot-offs these ranges have ever seen, Corpl. L. S. Valnes, Montreal, today defeated Lieut. R. A. Sweet, Canadian member of the 1932 Canadian Rifle team, for individual honors in the Borden Match at the Dominion Association meeting.

Valnes scored 99 out of a possible 100 in the match proper, and today met on the firing line to settle the argument. The prize was the Patterson Cup and C.R.A. silver medal.

Five shots were allotted to the two men, as was customary, but they still remained tied after the five shots had been fired, and it required eight more rounds, fired shot-for-shot, before Valnes could score a bull's-eye against his opponent's inner. He scored 62 to Sweet's 61.

Sergeant Major T. Trainor, Toronto, defeated Pte. B. Appleby, also of Toronto, for individual honors in the Borden Match. Both had the scores tied after five rounds, and it was 7 points higher than that of his opponent.

Alta, a tyro, got the honor of winning the first match of the morning. The match called for ten shots at 300 and 600 yards, and scores of 92 qualified in the prize list. British Columbia scores were: Sergt. T. R. Davies, 97; Sergt. A. Ash, 89; Pte. E. M. Grant, 96; S.M. W. H. Ruffell, 98; Capt. D. R. Blair, 95; M.G. H. Collings, 95; Sergt. T. W. Hall, 95; Sergt. J. H. Regan, 93; Capt. D. Fyvie, 93; Q.M.S. A. E. Evans, 93; Major F. Gardiner, 93; C.O.M.S. C. Heasman, 93; Corpl. L. C. Willoughby, 92; J. Nicholson, 92; Major F. Richardson, 92; Sergt. B. Drysdale, 86, and Pte. E. Shurbridge, 84.

The Life Members' Match, ten shots at 1,000 yards, was shot in a gale of wind, with the result that scores were rather indifferent; but as this match is not included in the Grand Aggregate, no harm was done.

British Columbia scores were: M.G. H. Collings, 92; Sergt. T. R. Davies, 46; Capt. D. Fyvie, 45; Q.M.S. A. E. Evans, 44; Capt. D. R. Blair, 43; Major F. Richardson, 43; Sergt. B. Drysdale, 43; Sergt. T. W. Hall, 43; Sergt. J. H. Regan, 43; Major F. Gardiner, 43; Corpl. L. C. Willoughby, 42; S.M. W. H. Ruffell, 41; Pte. I. M. Grant, 40, and Pte. Shurbridge, 40.

The Canadian Scottish team, composed of Capt. D. Fyvie, Sergt. A. Ash, Sergt. J. H. Regan and Sergt. T. W. Hall won the Challenge Cup in the Borden Match, and also took fourth place in the Walker Cup Match.

Kaye Don Off For Speedboat Race in U.S.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP).—Kaye Don, Britain's speedboat racing idol and holder of a new world record upon the water, left here today for Southampton to sail on the steam yacht "Majestic," for Detroit, where he will race against Gar Wood for the Harmsworth Trophy. A large crowd of cheering admirers bade him farewell.

"I am making no promises," he said, "except this—I will do the best I can against Wood's boat, which has a much greater horsepower than my 'Miss England III.'"

By promising to do the best he can, Don meant he would try to reach again, on the new Detroit course, the two-miles-a-minute pace he set when he eluded his shell-cased power plant across Loch Lomond at an average speed of 115.81 miles an hour, with a top mark of 126.5 miles, the fastest any human has traveled over the water.

KIDD REPORT IS REVIEWED

It was intimated. It was reiterated that the Government itself would print the report, after consultation with the committee.

Meanwhile, Acting Premier Pooley gave point-blank denial to rumors of disaffection in the Cabinet. There was not a sliver of truth in hints of resignations pending by members of the Ministry, he said, and the notion of leadership had not been raised.

On the return of Premier Tomin, the Government would give the fullest possible consideration to the report of the Kidd committee, and would arrange for its publication. Meanwhile discussion of what course the Government would pursue was premature, Mr. Pooley concluded.

VIEW ROYALS DOWN LAUNDRY

Rally in Last Frame to Cop Close Decision in Y.M.I. Victoria Series

Rallying in the ninth inning to score five runs, View Royals chalked up their third straight win in the Lower Island softball championship play-offs last night at Reynolds Field by squeezing through to an 11-10 victory over the New Method Laundry. Prior to the game, the teams stood with backed heads for two minutes in respect to Willie "Buz" Francis, New Method pitcher, who was drowned at Shawinigan Lake Tuesday in a boat accident. Francis twirled his last game Friday evening against the Jokers and lost an 8-7 decision.

In another third-round match, Y.M.I. scored its first win of the series by downing the Galedonians, 25-16, in a free scoring exhibition at Central Park. The win keeps the lodgement in the running for the honors.

TAIYOS WILL BATTLE BUDS

Second Place at Stake This Evening in Twilight Baseball League Fixture

With victory meaning undisputed occupation of the second slot in the Twilight Baseball League standing and the assurance of a place in the post-season play-offs, Taiyos, Japanese ball nine, and Rosebuds, second and third-berth holders, respectively, will clash at the Royal Athletic Park tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

Tahida, youthful Japanese hurler, will go to the mound for the Nippon nine, while Haley Jackson, first-string hurler in the Buds' camp, will oppose him in what promises to be a great struggle. Jackson has yet to taste defeat this season, and since joining the Rosebuds Club has turned in four victories.

With rival squads at full strength, a great battle for second place is expected.

Materials for Autumn Modes Are Being Shown

Soft Crepes Popular Among Woolen Materials—Favorite Colors Are Dark Red, Green and Brown—Velvet Used for Hats

Materials to be worn in the autumn are now on exhibition, says an article in The Times (London). Velvet is used as generously as fur by dressmakers and milliners. Cotton velvet with a dull finish is made into wraps for daily and evening wear; fine silk velvet, as unobtainable as muslin, is used for evening dresses. Velvet is also used to trim materials which are slight and transparent.

Velvet belts and scarves are put with dresses of chiffon and there are hats to match. Velvet bags, velvet shoes, velvet muffs are worn today. The rich velvets of Lyons are also used for dresses and evening wraps.

WOOLENS IN STYLE

Most of the woolen materials in fashion are soft crepes, more closely woven than the summer crepes. Their surface is invariably rough and may be crinkled. Rabbit hair is interwoven with wool; two colors may be interwoven, and, though clear patterns are not fashionable, few materials are flatly uniform in weave. Irregularity in weaving and softness of texture give a pleasing hand-made look to machine-made materials.

Rich shades of red, dark green, brown are three favorite colors. Mixed tweeds are used, and it is the fashion to have both tweeds and plain materials in two weights to make one ensemble: a lightweight crepe for the dress, a heavier one for the coat, each clearly related to the other in weave and color.

SMART JERSEYS

Figured jerseys are used for sweaters, cardigans, in bright striped patterns. Machine-made materials, plain or figured, are as nearly made to look like hand-woven and hand-knitted or crocheted work as may be. The newest thing in knitted jackets is short and closed in front by an irregular line, with decorative collar and cuffs. The yarns used for hand-knitting are various in color and weight, some dull, some bright in texture. Gold and silver threads may be introduced into knitted wool jackets and pullovers. The more simple woolen jackets and sweaters are worn with country tweeds. Hand-knitted and crocheted scarves, caps, gloves, belts are legion. Tweed-patterned wools are used for warm winter sweaters. Lace-patterned sweaters in Irish lace designs are being made, with tatted wool neck lines.

WINTER HAT MODES

The milliners are playing busily with all sorts of materials. Velvet, plain and figured, felt of many varieties, black broadcloth, ribbons, braids. On any and every hat there may be ornamental hand-stitching. Fur and feathers are used to trim, both being tutored into conventional designs: flowers, leaves, triangles, diamond shapes. Small shapes in hats are inevitable, since fur cape-collars, to be draped about the head, will go with tailor-made and long coats. The detachable cape is made in many different shapes and furs. The short fur coat is its rival.

To Be Married Early in September

coats, capes and wraps is that they are so soft and supple that they drape as easily as satin. Lining to fur coats and wraps may be dull or shiny. It is the fashion to trim them in the Chinese and Japanese styles of decoration with applications of embroidery, sparsely used, so that when the wrap be thrown open a glint of bright color or elaborate stitching may be seen.

JEWELRY AS DECORATION

Jewelry as a decoration to dress is treated with some severity by the dress designers. For the morning, plain gold, silver or metal chains are worn at neck and wrist.

For the evening, pearls and diamonds or their imitations are more fashionable than colored stones. Brooches are again worn on hats and long bars of jewels on scarves.

She really deserves the title.

CARGO THEFT IS CAPITAL OFFENCE

Moscow Making It Hard for Plunderers of Property in Possession of State

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP).—Today's newspapers explained a recent Government decree providing capital punishment for persons convicted of theft of railroad and river cargoes or collective and co-operative property.

The decree does not alter the past policy of dealing with such offences, but makes its application more stringent by definitely classifying all shipments of goods in transit and all common property in collective farms and co-operatives as the property of the State.

Thus, kulaks caught stealing grain from collective fields in an effort to disrupt the work of collectivization, are subject to execution by firing squads. Those robbing transportation shipments must suffer the same penalty.

In general, such cases were similarly dealt with in the past, when it was shown that the offence was such magnitude as to constitute counter-revolutionary activity; but the recent decree indicates more rigorous application of the law by classifying all such crimes as offences against the State. The death penalty is inflicted in Soviet Russia only for political crimes.

Vivid Nails Help To Emphasize Lovely Hand

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty."

It's an obvious fact that make-up emphasizes the areas on which it is placed. If a girl makes up her eyes brilliantly, for instance, she emphasizes them, makes them stand out. If she makes up her mouth vividly, it is her mouth that becomes her outstanding feature. If she makes up her cheeks skillfully, her cheeks become the centre of attraction. I think that those colorful nail polishers that so many girls have taken to wearing lately have quite the same effect. They emphasize the hands, attract attention to them. And for that reason a girl's got to be mighty careful in her selection of colors. For the brilliant, vivid shades emphasize the hands a great deal. And to be able to wear them advantageously, a girl's got to have perfect hands.

GLADYS GLAD

Most women are wise enough to lubricate their hands sufficiently with a good cream or lotion, in order to keep them soft and smooth. But bleaching is something else again. A good many women continually neglect to give their hands proper bleaching treatments, and as a result their poor paddles grow dark and discolored.

BLEACHING TREATMENTS

Sometimes it is merely through forgetfulness that girls neglect to give their hands the bleaching treatments that they require. But I've found a remedy for that. I am glad to say. And said remedy is nothing more than a soap that not only cleanses the skin excellently, but bleaches it as well.

To make this bleaching soap, place a full wine glass of eau de Cologne and one of fresh, strained lemon juice in a small pan. Add to this a pound of white castile soap that has been scraped into fine shavings. Then mix the ingredients over a slow heat until all the soap has been dissolved. When the mixture is all in liquid form, pour the mixture into a mold of some sort and allow it to harden. You will find that this soap will not only cleanse your hands well, but will at the same time help to keep them the lily-white hue that poets have always raved about.

Knox Y.P.S. Meets

Knox Church Young People's Society met recently at the home of Mrs. Regina Scobie, Stanley Avenue. The members were taught how to do several novelty things for the sale of work which is to be held on August 27. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess. Next Monday the society will meet at the home of Miss Betty Campbell, 719 Wilson Street.

Wife Preservers

A piece of old inner tube twenty-four inches long, stuffed with cotton or rags, makes a good kneeling pad to use when cleaning floors, stairs, etc.

"How do you like those two poems I submitted?" asked the young poet. "Excellent!" replied the critic. "They are poems that Milton or Keats could not have written." The poet breathed a sigh of relief. "Really," he exclaimed, overjoyed, "it is very kind of you to say that."

BUSY WOMAN Finds New Secret!

Says Weekly Wash No More Worry!

"Well," said Mrs. Richards proudly, "if you don't believe me, look at these clothes I've just ironed. Did you ever see a finer looking wash—look at the colour—white and clean like snow. And just smell them. Isn't that a fresh, clean smell. Now that's what I call washing! I'm proud of the look of these clothes. It gives you a heart for your work when it turns out like that."

"And Here's My Secret"

"First, I use a good soap. I'd advise you to use the brand I always buy — Pearl White Naphtha. You'll find it a good practical laundry soap and a lot more economical than most. Soap your clothes and put them to soak overnight in cold water. You will find that, as the water temperature rises to the heat of the room, more dirt is loosened than would be if the water were cooling. In the morning, rinse your clothes thoroughly in warm water and you'll never have any more troubles with your wash."

"And, if I do say it myself, now that they are ironed they look as fresh as the day they came from the store. I didn't rub the skin off my hands to get them that way either."

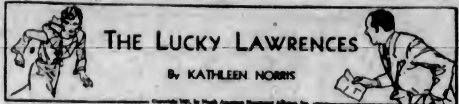

Thousands of women have learned Mrs. Richards' secret and follow her example. Get the Pearl habit yourself—Pearl means efficient work in less time and at less cost. That's something to remember these days.

Over 3000 cakes of Pearl Soap are used by Canadian housewives every hour

THE LUCKY LAWRENCES

B. KATHLEEN MORRIS

CHAPTER VI

Van came to supper the next night and everything was happy, unpretentious and natural. The kitchen was just what a kitchen should be when Van arrived, a social place in which three pretty girls were busy, and three rather clumsy men trying to make themselves useful. Gail's biscuits were browned to a turn, and the famous Lawrence cheese-and-egg dish turned out perfectly.

She thought the dining-room charming, for the late twilight of a May Sunday made it possible to dispense with gaslight, and the garden outside the windows was a breathing paradise of crowded Spring bloom.

They sat about the table until a clock, and then Phil and Dick, after duly carrying handfuls of dishes into the kitchen, departed. At the kitchen table Ariel began a composition on the probable outcome of another great war, and Edith generously forced Gail and Van away.

"No, please—it's nothing; I'll leave them all until morning anyway!" protested Edith. "You were going somewhere—go on!"

Gail had combed her bushy, unruly hair with a wet comb and fitted it into a bright cap of tawny waves tonight, her eyes were glowing, the purple frock and white collar infinitely becoming.

She caught up a coat and she and Van went out in the dusk to his roadster and rolled smoothly away from dinky Clippersville, and up into the fragrant hills where twilight still lingered.

"How about Old Aunt Mary's?" "What sort of place is it? I've never been there."

"Oh, highly respectable!" They went accordingly to Old Aunt Mary's, a low wooden shack on the Peninsula Highway, with a greasy dance floor in the centre and greasy bare tables all about it. The air was thick with grease, for Aunt Mary's big frying kettles were in full view; Aunt Mary and her colored assistants were also greasy.

But the music was good and the floor good and the whole scene so novel to Gail that she found it delightful. She and Van drank ginger ale and danced. They talked flippantly and with much laughter, as young persons who are just making each other's acquaintance usually do. Van even laughed usually do. Van even laughed usually do.

"My dear child, there's no more the matter with my lungs than with yours!" "There's what?" Gail demanded blankly.

"I haven't got one," Van retorted. "I flunked out of college at Easter, that was all! Or no, he remembered conscientiously, 'I did have a heavy chest cold, coughing, all that. That was part of it, you see? I had to stay home a week at Christmas, and what not...'"

In his incoherently gay manner he finished the sentence with a shrug, smiling down at his own fingers, smiling up with a glance into her face.

"My dear child, there's no more the matter with my lungs than with yours!" "There's what?" Gail demanded blankly.

"I haven't got one," Van retorted. "I flunked out of college at Easter, that was all! Or no, he remembered conscientiously, 'I did have a heavy chest cold, coughing, all that. That was part of it, you see? I had to stay home a week at Christmas, and what not...'"

"Well, if you feel that way about it I'll see what I can do. I can lie out in the wet grass a few nights—"

"Oh, honestly, I think you are the biggest liar I ever heard of!" "No, I'm not, I'll not deceive you, dear. These are the days of heavy competition, and there are better liars... there really are. But I'm young and I'm willing."

"For heaven's sake, shut up. You make my head go round!" They sat on watching the dancers. The music drowned on; the crowd was thinning now, some of the tables were empty.

When the clock struck 10 Gail said she must go home; Van made no protest; he seemed tired, too, willing to say good night.

They were laughing again, driving home in the starlight. But at the Lawrence gate Gail was conscious that somehow their parting was going to be a little stiff and flat. It would lay a heavy bar upon the frothy gaiety of the evening.

But she could not save herself. She could not suddenly be flirtatious. She did not know how. Did he expect her to let him kiss her good night? Did he even want to kiss her?

Gail suddenly felt like an innocent awkward little girl. A sense of helplessness smote her. The happy evening must end on a high note, and she must be equal to it. She must not say good night like Edith saying good night to one of the girls from the store—like a nice old lady saying good night to a dear old friend.

But somehow she could not carry it. The wild thought of the night above him for a second when he moved to leave the car, and of putting a butterfly kiss on his bare head, crossed her flurried mind. But that would be idiotic—that was not the way girls kissed boys nowadays. While she confusedly considered

scornful smile and shrug, "he had to tell Benstein that the roadster was much the better car, but it seems the old man said, 'You should tell me that before I am married and have four girls!'"

"Did Dick tell you that?"

"Yes, he was awfully funny. Well, anyway, Dick did Benstein's first and he's been putting over his own for about six weeks. So last night he drove it in from Stanislau."

"Dick's a smart, admirable," Gail said indifferently, opening her book,

"that you expect him to break out rail-splitting 'most any minute! I can just see him sweating over politics some day and being on the loo-ing side every time! 'Honest Dick

Steinbins for Governor!"

Edith isn't that exactly what he'll do?"

Edith said in deep relief.

"But I like old Dick!"

"Oh, so do I," the younger sister agreed eagerly.

She went away and Gail lay musing, her open book in her hands.

The memory of her parting with

Van kept returning to buzz about her like a mead and spoil all the other recollections.

"Why, you poor idiot!" Gail said to herself almost audibly. "You got what you wanted and ten times more than you wanted, and you're no more satisfied than a rabbit!

He came to supper, didn't he? And everything went well, didn't it? And you went out in his roadster and then, why not ask Lily Wilber something? She's an awfully sweet little thing—she's had an awfully rough deal—"

Edith had felt every fiber of her being stiffen; Gail's hands had begun to tremble as she had said pleasantly, confusedly, "Well, of course, if she'd like it, Phil—"

"Why shouldn't she like it?" Phil had asked in a level, challenging voice.

"No reason why! Except—hasn't she rather young children?"

"Yep. She has three kids." Phil had been refilling his coffee cup.

"The father was that skunk, Joe Cass, wasn't he?"

"The father was Joe Cass. But he wasn't such a skunk. He was unfortunate—he was weak, I guess."

"I don't think she'd come!" Gail had said, uncomfortable but determined.

"You might try!" Phil's voice had been level, composed. He had returned to his newspaper with no further reference to the subject.

His sisters, in utter consternation, had spoken since of little else.

She's simply mesmerized him, that's all! It's just too horrible!"

"Gail, we couldn't ask her to the house!"

"I don't think we could. Just when wasn't out of—looking forward to Sunday night supper. What on earth can we do, Edith, if Phil says anything more?"

"Well, have her, I suppose!"

"But she's simply—she's simply not respectable!"

"I know."

"I mean—everyone knows what those Wilbers are and the Cass boys are just gangsters!"

"I know—" Edith conceded again anxiously.

CAPITOL OFFERS
COMEDY FEATURE

"Million Dollar Legs" Is Claimed as Funniest Film of the Year's Productions

Opening today at the Capitol Theatre is Paramount's Olympiad farce, "Million Dollar Legs," said to be one of the most instantly funny pictures ever filmed. Not even the various comedies in which the Four Marx Brothers have appeared reach so high a pinnacle of sheer nonsensical buffoonery as does this picture, according to advance reports.

It is laid in the mythical Republic of Klopstokia, where all the girls are named Angela and all the men George; where it is a jeli offence not to kiss a pretty girl; where the runners are so fast that they trip over frightened rabbits and have to hurdle fleeing deer. Jack Oakie, as the "clown prince," is the man who leads Klopstokia to a thrilling victory in the Olympics. To W. C. Fields, Andy Clyde, Ben Turpin, Hank Mann, George Barbier, Hugh Herbert, and little Dickie Moore—all tried and true farceurs—has been entrusted the rest of the comedy.

DOMINION Nearly ten years elapse between the hour-and-a-half hour-ymoon and the next meeting of man and wife in "The Man From Yesterday," the Claudette Colbert-Clive Brook picture now showing at the Dominion Theatre. The story, based on a play by Nell Blackwell and Rowland G. Edwards, adapted for the screen by Oliver H. P. Garrett and directed by Berthold Viertel, dramatizes the experiences of a "lost" man, who returns from oblivion to claim his two-hour wife.

EMPIRE Leslie Howard, who plays the leading male role in the British Paramount's "Reserved for Ladies," which is at the Empire Theatre for three more days, is an English actor who first gained prominence on the London stage about a decade ago. Because of his outstanding dramatic talent and attractive personality, United States theatrical producers drafted him for featured roles on the Broadway stage. He was an immediate and pronounced success.

MYSTERY FILM DROPS
CONVENTIONAL FORMS

Reversing all conventional methods of plot development, "The Roadhouse Murder," coming to the Columbia Theatre today, with Eric Linden and Dorothy Jordan in the featured leads, gives a startling new treatment of the ever popular mystery theme.

In this RKO-Radio picture, the central characters blunder upon a double murder in a desolate country roadhouse and discover the identity of the killers. This information is shared with the audience and there is never any mystery as to who actually committed the crime.

The film's amazing story complications result from the hero's weird plan of assuming the guilt for the murders and the element of suspense centres about the uncertainty of his fate. When the evidence that means the hero's safely disappears, the suspense reaches a tensity which never relaxes until the final fade-out.

Also on the same bill is Will Rogers in "Business and Pleasure."

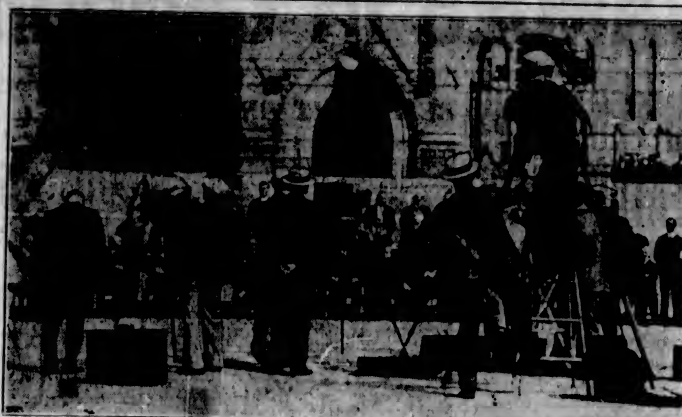

DRAMA OF THE WEST
PLAYING AT ROMANO

Another of those two-gun dramas of the West that was featuring that imitable cowboy star, Ken Maynard, comes to the Romano Theatre today with the showing of "The Pocatello Kid." To judge by the reaction of the audience, there is nothing that the average theatre patron likes better than fast action, wild-riding and plenty of shooting. The picture offers plenty of gun fights, fist fights and wild riding. Incidentally, there is just the right amount of romance running through the story.

"THE STAR WITNESS" AT PLAYHOUSE TODAY

"The Star Witness," the Warner Bros. production featuring Charles (Chic) Sale and Walter Huston, and coming to the Playhouse Theatre today, depicts ways by which Camp, leader of a group of thieves, silenced those who might have appeared against him at the trial. Kidnap-

A New Suit and an Old One
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Who always looks his best 'tis plain
Has naught to lose, but much to gain.
—Old Mother Nature.

Bluffer the Adder had just explained to Danny Meadow Mouse that the reason he had not seen Old Mr. Toad under that board close by was because he was busy changing his suit at the time of Old Mr. Toad's visit.

"Still, even now I don't understand why you didn't see Old Mr. Toad," said Danny. "Even if you were busy changing your suit I don't see why you couldn't have used your eyes. From what Old Mr. Toad told me I guess he was pretty close to you. You must have been blind."

"Just so," replied Bluffer. "Just so. I was blind. I didn't see him because I couldn't see him."

Danny looked more perplexed than ever. He was. "Why couldn't you see?" he asked. "Does changing your suit make you blind?" "That is exactly what happens," replied Bluffer. "For a short time I am blind. It is very annoying and makes one most uncomfortable. You ought to be thankful that when you get a new suit you don't have to get rid of the old one all at once the way we snakes do. It is fine when the job is done, but doing it is sometimes troublesome. I suppose you hardly know when you are changing your coat."

"Oh, I know it all right," replied Danny. "But it doesn't bother me any. The old fur drops out little by little while the new fur is coming in and the first thing I know there I am with a new coat. But I don't understand yet why you were blind."

"Come under this board with me and I will show you," replied Bluffer. "My old suit is there all complete just where I got out of it, and if you will look it over carefully you will see for yourself why for a short time I couldn't see."

He glided under the board. Danny hesitated a moment and then followed. Just a bit back lay Bluffer's old suit. There was no mistaking it because of the shape of it. There it lay, wrong side out, just as Bluffer had crawled out of it. Instead of being the color of the new suit, it was white and the shape of every scale was clear. But the most remarkable part of it was that there was the complete shape of Bluffer's head and this contained two little windows, as it were, where his eyes had been.

"You see," explained Bluffer, "I don't have a fur coat, so there is not fur to drop out while new fur comes in. So Old Mother Nature gives me a new suit under the old one, which is really a sort of very thin skin as you see here. When all is ready for the change that thin skin loosens, even that over my eyes. Then, of course, I can't see. I rub my nose against something to start that loosened skin at the end of my nose and when it has started to turn back I force my head under something like a stone or a stick, anything to push that skin back and hold it while I crawl out of it. Just as soon as my head is out I can see as well as ever. Sometimes the old suit gets torn, but this time I got out of it without making a single hole in it. I certainly am glad that job is over. Which way did you say that Old Mr. Toad went?"

"I didn't say," replied Danny Meadow Mouse, "and I am not going to say. I don't want you to go hungry, but I certainly don't want my friend, Old Mr. Toad, to be the

Davidson Scores Fine Victory in Bowling Tourney

Burnside Bowler Defeats J. Smith, of Vancouver in Singles Decisively—Bob Dewar Reaches Eighth—Rinks Match Carded Tonight

A splendid crowd was present yesterday morning when the official opening of the bowling tournament, being staged by the Greater Victoria District Association, took place. Promptly at 9 o'clock, His Worship Mayor David Leeming, in a brief speech, welcomed the visitors to Victoria, assuring them of every possible courtesy. His Worship stated everything possible would be done to have the visitors view the beauties of the Capital city, so that they, too, would appreciate the advantages of locating here.

Following the official opening, a group photograph was taken in which all competitors and spectators were included.

Competition yesterday was much more severe than at any time up to date. Many of the competitors were brought down to within a few games of the finals, the result being that many of the crack bowlers of the district clashed. Perhaps the most spectacular contest of the day was that between W. Davidson, of Burnside Club, Victoria, and J. Smith, of the Vancouver Club. The latter is looked upon as the finest singles player on the Mainland, but in the local bowler he met a "foeman worthy of his steel." The contest ended with Davidson winning a score of 15 to 7. The latter was the recipient of hearty congratulations by his many admirers on his splendid win. In this competition, R. A. C. Dewar, Victoria, and M. Brown, of Cumberland, are the first to reach the eighth.

Tonight the annual match between visitors and city bowlers will be staged, there being fourteen rinks representing each side.

CRICKET TOUR BY CANADIAN ELEVEN URGED

Skipper of Australian Team Suggests Sending Side to Other Countries

CALGARY, Aug. 10 (CP).—Formation of a Canadian cricket team, to stage a tour in other cricket-playing countries is urged by Victor Richardson, captain of the visiting Australian players, who are playing a local tour here today.

Richardson suggested a Dominion-wide movement to have the ancient game included in public school curriculum for the purpose of popularizing and improving the game in Canada. Appointment of a Dominion governing body, similar to those ruling cricket in other countries, would be a great stride in this direction, he thought.

Canadian pitches were not satisfactory to good cricket playing, Richardson said, for while some grounds are ideal, the wickets assisted the bowler and lessened the efforts of the batsman.

Arthur Mailey, organizer of the tour, said the standard of cricket in Canada has improved considerably since his last trip here in 1913. He said his team was looking forward to the return match with Vancouver, which handed the visitors their only defeat on their present tour.

CUMBERLAND NINE WALLOPS DUNCAN

DUNCAN, Aug. 9.—Cumberland's ball team, playing the best brand of baseball seen here this season, handed the local nine a bad 9-0 beating here on Sunday. The game lasted only one hour and twenty-five minutes. Quinn twirled for the visitors and the Duncan batters ate out of his hand. He struck out fifteen, gave four hits and walked two men. McKinney pitched six innings for the home team. He was hit six times, including a home run, in the first frame. Matthews replaced him. His pitching was good, but his support was poor. He struck out two and two scratch singles were his in the fourth and fifth innings he was on the mound. Lapeansky upped.

By KIM DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 10.—Boxers from Canada today broke even in Olympic Games contests, as George Maughan, of McGill University, and Horamonts Gwynne, of Toronto, (Lefty) defeated by Larry Lavole, of Edmonton, and Frank Genovese, of Toronto.

Maughan, a heavyweight, floored his German opponent, Hans Kohlhaas, twice in the second round, and was content to win on points. Gwynne, a Canadian lightweight champion, defeated Victor Mills, of Italy, by a decision after three fast rounds.

Defeat of Genovese came after the Toronto lightweight had been defeated in his last fight here in 1913. He was outpointed by M. Bianchini, of Italy. Frank O'Dell was a big figure in the third house of the season in the first inning.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Mental Marvel—in 1913 M. C. Berg, of New York City, discovered the boy wonder, Zerah II, in a mathematics and was able to solve any difficult problem in but a few seconds. The boy was exhibited throughout Great Britain and the United States as a featured vaudeville attraction, and his prowess with figures was tested thousands of times, without failure. Physicians who examined the boy could not account for this power, outside of the fact that the boy's brain was abnormal.

But in the early part of 1918, when Zerah II was but nineteen years old, he commenced to lose his peculiar power and within a year he was absolutely helpless in so far as mathematics were concerned.

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Home runs by Berger and Schumacher gave the Braves a 3-2 win over the Pirates in the second game of a double-header today after the league leaders had broken a ten-game losing streak by winning the opener, 5-2. French held the Pirates for four hits in the second game, while the Pirates found Brandt for nine, but the two circuit blows, plus a squeeze play, gave Boston the edge.

Against two defeats today with a new job of relief pitching that enabled the league-leading New York Yankees to defeat the Red Sox, 7-6, and sweep the four-game series.

Allen relieved Pennock in the third and gave only five hits in the remaining innings. The Yanks scored a lot of base hits, getting seven runs and having seven men left on base. They scored their winning run in the eighth on a pass to Gehrig and singles by Lazzeri and Chapman.

By KIM DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 10.—Boxers from Canada today broke even in Olympic Games contests, as George Maughan, of McGill University, and Horamonts Gwynne, of Toronto, (Lefty) defeated by Larry Lavole, of Edmonton, and Frank Genovese, of Toronto.

Maughan, a heavyweight, floored his German opponent, Hans Kohlhaas, twice in the second round, and was content to win on points. Gwynne, a Canadian lightweight champion, defeated Victor Mills, of Italy, by a decision after three fast rounds.

Defeat of Genovese came after the Toronto lightweight had been defeated in his last fight here in 1913. He was outpointed by M. Bianchini, of Italy. Frank O'Dell was a big figure in the third house of the season in the first inning.

Youthful Vancouver Star Captures Thrilling Match From Toronto—Jack Nash Victorious Over Jim Bell, 4 and 2—Winnipeg Youngster Gives Somerville Tough Battle

LAMBTON GOLF CLUB, TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP).—C. R. "Sandy" Somerville, making a determined bid to occupy the throne-room of Canadian amateur golf for the fifth year, had to stretch his tournament legs to stay in the second round of the thirty-six-hole match play over Lambton's rolling fairways, and did not give up the fight until the rest to the last green had been reached.

The creditable showing the youthful-veteran linkman from London, Ont., was best told by Sandy's slim winning figures, 2 up and 1 to play.

As rain and sunshine followed each other in quick succession, and made tricky greens trickier, only the fittest survived. The band who earned the right to enter tomorrow's quarter-finals included two strong United States players, Will Ginn, Jr., and Francis Ryan, young Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, wearer of the British Columbia amateur crown, and four names well known in Eastern Canadian tournaments, Jack Cameron, Jack Nash, Gordon Taylor and Bill Eckhardt.

After the strong showing made today by slim Mr. Ginn, who calls Wallingford, Penn., his home, those given to predicting called him to meet Somerville for the title. They are in opposite brackets of the draw.

ONE-SIDED WIN
Steady pars streaked from Ginn's clubs for twenty-seven holes, and he gave his opponent, Joe Bydoyle, of Buffalo, N.Y., never a chance to keep abreast. Even par for the set figures of 34 out and 36 in for the course, and Will went to lunch 6 up. In the afternoon the Pennsylvania count that ended with the 34 again, and the battle was over with the tally 10 and 9 against Bydoyle, who suffered from a faltering putter.

Another putter—that of Stan Leonard—was the sweetest music for him, but it was a funeral dirge for his opponent, Phil Farley, of Toronto. After a morning round that ended with the Eastern 1 up, Stan, who has bulging muscles for a non-toe-big seventeen-year-old, followed up his lengthy drive with eleven one-putts in twenty holes of play.

Farley showed a stout heart to stick with his foe, and the fight that resulted produced the match, then battle of the day. One up as he poised to drive on the home hole, the Pacific Coast youth seemed a winner, but his long tee shot hooked into a flower bed. Farley's drive of 250 yards found the green, and the penalty Stan incurred for picking his ball out of the flower bed cost him the lead and sent the match into extra holes. They halved the 365-yard first with par fours. The next, a 170-yarder with a green flanked by ominous sand traps and skirted at the rear by young pine trees settled the issue. Farley's masher iron found the tiny trees, and he had to pick out a slant was ten feet from the pin in one, and as his putt eased toward the cup, certain of dropping, Farley picked it up, conceding his opponent a birdie and the game.

Elimination of Don Carrick, Toronto, the Dominion's amateur king in 1925 and 1926, by Gordon Taylor, of Montreal, and Jack Cameron's par-mashing display to rub E. Innes, a Scot transplanted in Montreal, out of the picture, helped make the day pulsating.

The fight Carrick was making to replace the top after being out of competitive golf for two years, smashed on the impregnable rock that was Taylor's short game.

The Cameron-Innes fight score read: "Innes two up," after the first half of the day's play. Their approximate medal cards for that journey were: Cameron, 73; Innes, 74. The veteran Toronto shooter emerged a 3-and-1 winner.

SEMI-FINALS REACHED IN SENIORS' GOLF TOURNEY

VANCOUVER VETERAN IS LONE CANADIAN IN TITULAR FLIGHT

Col. J. P. Fell to Carry British Columbia's Colors Into Semis Today at Royal Colwood Golf Club—J. A. Byerly, J. H. Fuller and Joshua Green Are Surviving American Players

Col. J. P. Fell, Vancouver, will carry British Columbia's colors into the semi-finals of the grand championship of the twenty annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament as a result of yesterday's quarter-finals at the Royal Colwood Club, in which the mainland veterans and three invading Americans gained places in the last four. Along with Fell, J. A. Byerly, Portland, 1930 titleholder, J. H. Fuller, Aberdeen runner-up to the Portland ace two years ago, and Joshua Green, Seattle, are in the semis. This quartet will start out this morning and the two survivors will battle it out tomorrow over the eighteen-hole route for the crown vacated by Judge H. B. Rigg, of Yakima.

Col. Fell will face J. A. Byerly in the upper bracket in today's semi-finals and J. H. Fuller will fight it out with Joshua Green. There is a chance that history will repeat itself. Two years ago on the same course, Byerly and Fuller started out in the grand championship final and the former won out on the seventeenth green by sinking a thirty-five foot putt to take the title and silverware to Portland.

Shooting the same steady brand of golf he did during the first round of match play when he eliminated C. R. Harold, Seattle, medalist, Col. Fell scored a great victory over W. F. Kettnerbach, of Lewiston, Idaho, 3 and 2. Fell took an early lead and clung to it throughout, despite a determined fight by his opponent. Fuller ousted R. R. Fraser, Seattle, by the same margin by uncorking a strong game on the incoming nine, while Joshua Green accounted for L. A. Lewis, New Westminster, first holder of the seniors' title, 3 and 2. Green played well the entire distance and will have to be watched in the semi-finals. Byerly had a tough assignment in A. S. Kerry, Seattle, and only managed to squeeze through on the eighteenth by hitting the hardest match in the titular flight.

HOWARD FREEMAN
C. R. Harold, M. Freeman, Captain Wallace Langley, all of Seattle, and A. T. Goward, Victoria, reached the semis in the first flight. The local hope, Goward, who was defeated L. S. Lusby, New Westminster, 3 and 2, by playing a steady game from the first tee to the sixteenth where the match ended. R. W. Gibson is Victoria's lone survivor in the Class "A" championship, while Judge P. S. Lampan is still in the Class "B" scramble along with J. E. Wilson, grand champion in 1928 and 1929. H. G. Wilson defeated L. S. Lusby, New Westminster, and will fly the Capital City's colors in Class "C." Victoria is well represented in the various flights. Senator G. H. Barnard and C. Griggs, his Tacoma partner, walked off with the fourth competition by checking in with a card of 100-147. J. E. Wilson and H. MacDougal were second with a card of 106-32-154, while R. W. Neighbour and W. F. Kettnerbach, who were tied for fourth place with a card of 107-34-157, and L. S. Lusby were deadlocked for third honors with net totals of 135. C. C. Worsford and F. J. Fulton were tied for fourth place with a card of 136-35-158. Wallace Langley, Seattle, won the putting honors on Tuesday with a card of 34, and Eugene Ekke, Spokane, was best yesterday with the same score.

THE RESULTS
Results follow:
Grand Championship
J. P. Fell (Vancouver), defeated W. F. Kettnerbach (Idaho), 3 and 2.

By their win, the cafemen jumped back into first berth, displacing the Canadians. Parfitt went to the mound in the third but the winners rallied for four runs, first string chucker, Cann allowed two hits and one run the remainder of the journey.

HOLDEN GOES ROUTE
Leo Holden was the winning pitcher for Green Mill. He was hit hard during the first two innings but settled down from then on and only permitted the Sons to score another tally, that coming in the last frame. Nix collected three out of a like number of trips, while Bacon got two out of two. Haines got two out of three.

BAYS' CREW GOES UNDER AT KELOWNA

Victoria Doubles Crew Defeated by Interior Pair by Four Lengths

KELOWNA, Aug. 10 (CP).—With thirty-two of the sixty-eight events on the two-day programme run off, the twenty-sixth renewal of the Kelowna Regatta got under way today. Most of the events today featured junior aquatic stars.

The crack J.B.A.A. crew from Vancouver Island bowed to the Kelowna crew in the doubles rowing event, the Interior crew winning by four lengths in 4:08 over the mile course in the first heat of that event. In the other senior doubles heat, Butler and Jagard, of Vancouver, beat out Meek and Lucas, of Nelson, by three lengths, in 5:30.

J. Burns, Wenatchee, Wash., captured the mile swim in 25:12, the fastest time made in this event in Kelowna in years. The Washington star came back later to win his heat in the 100 yards open, the final of which will be run off tomorrow.

With a dive of 82 feet 2 inches, Constance Knox, Kelowna, took first in the diving competition from a large field.

The open diving championship and the Nichol Challenge Cup went to W. Wills, Vernon, who nosed out Fred Burr by one point. Wills' score was 66.

One of the highlights of the day's performances was the surfboard riding, in which Tempest and Mrs. Cliff Renfrew, of Kelowna, successfully rode surfboards behind speedboats.

Security Prices Advance Again At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—Revised estimates for the advance appeared on all financial fronts today.

Stocks, far from meeting the reaction which a large section of Wall Street has been expecting, surged upward in the second largest turnover of the year, 4,429,290 shares, and closed with many net gains of 3 to 10 points.

Shares generally closed under their high, due to late profit-taking but buying was well diversified throughout the day, with rails, utilities and a few motors taking turns in the front ranks.

Telephone was again a storm center of activity, up 37-8 net. J. I. Case rose 8-1/2. International Harvester's 4-1/2. Chrysler soared about 3, an unusually large move, 12-5/8. Steel, after rising 4, reduced its gain to 2-3/4.

Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio, closed 2 to nearly 4 higher, while Norfolk and Western jumped 7-1/2. Allied Chemical American Can, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, American Smelting and Coca Cola were other prominent gainers.

Improvement ran against the tenor of most statistics coming to hand. Steel production was slightly lower at 14 per cent of capacity against last week's 15 per cent; electric power production, which had been rising, dipped under a week ago; Eastman Kodak and Delaware & Hudson reduced their dividends; motor output for July was estimated at 41 per cent under June and 49 per cent under a year ago.

Railroad bonds skyrocketed and all classes of listed loans trailed the high-speed carriers.

It was the most active market since January 14, when it totaled $18,023,000, par value, and the average for sixty corporate issues gaining 1-1/2 points, the largest advance since June 4.

The United States Government section, which has been marking time recently, joined the upward movement and five treasury issues recorded new highs for the year.

The most conspicuous advances, ranging from 1 to 6 or more points, took place in the rails.

Some utilities and industrials were especially strong. Some of the Federal light loans were up more than 9 points.

The foreign department was relatively quiet and steady.

WHEAT PRICES

MOVE HIGHER

Renewed Demand Bolsters Trading at Winnipeg After Brief Decline

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10 (CP).—Bolstered by strong Liverpool cables, some export and other outside support, wheat prices went on the climb they suspended yesterday on the grain exchange here, and closed more than 1c higher for the day.

All futures were 1-1/8 higher, October closing at 61-1/8 bid, December at 62-3/4 and May at 66-7-8.

Export figures were placed at less than half a million bushels. There was some buying of May Winnipeg against sales of the corresponding month at Chicago, balanced by selling of Winnipeg in the South.

Hedging sales were slightly larger but have not yet reached an appreciable volume.

Demand for the top grades of cash wheat during the morning was good with exporters, shippers and mills the best buyers. Export in barley featured coarse grains market, but cash interest in the other grains was indifferent.
